// REPORT //

On the third day of the Faculty Development Program at Govt. Dr. Waman Wasudev Patankar Girls' PG College, Ms. Priyanka Verma shared insights on her Subject "Work Force participation of women in India". She stated that women's participation in the workforce refers to the percentage of women in the working population. Their contribution to the socio-economic development of the country is an indicator of gender equality. She shared her views on the comparative participation of women in rural and urban areas and highlighted their roles in education, agriculture, industry, health, politics, and administration. She emphasized that women's participation is not just an economic issue but a sign of social transformation.

Dr. Sangeeta Sinha delivered a lecture on "Issues Related to Women's Health," she noted that women face various health challenges at different stages of life. Due to social pressure and family responsibilities, they often neglect these issues. She stressed the need to prioritize women's health and promote gender equality through awareness. She also talked about cervical cancer and its prevention.

Dr. Sujata Jayram introduced the POCSO Act and the Vishakha Committee. She described these as significant steps toward gender justice and human rights—the former ensures the safety of children, while the latter ensures the dignity and safety of women in the workplace. The event was attended by professors, assistant professors, guest lecturers, Janbhagidari assistant professors, and students. Vote of Thanks was given by Dr. Shweta Gaikwad.
